

The Gypsy Princess

I'd like to dance

I'd like to cheer ...

... a thousand little angels sing the praises of our love

Dresden
Germany
Dec. | 2010

The celebrated Austro-Hungarian revue star Sylva Varescu cannot escape her adoring public and on each tour she leaves behind hosts of broken-hearted male admirers. But when she meets the handsome Prince Edwin von Weylersheim, she falls in love herself. His aristocratic family disapproves of the young Prince's passion for the temperamental but, unfortunately, not highborn Sylva. His father has already arranged for him to be engaged to Stasi, a count's daughter, who has the appropriate social rank. Sylva is outraged and accepts an invitation to go away on tour to America. "It's over with love ... but ... without women life is so unhappy." After the tour, Sylva returns to Vienna in a high-class company as the celebrated Gypsy Princess. Sylva and Edwin meet again and their love is re-ignited with new passion. His snobbish family is again trying to keep them apart - until an old hushed up scandal involving Edwin's mother leaks out ... and at last .... in waltz time "a thousand little angels sing the praises of our love!"

"Gipsy, take your fiddle" and enjoy with us four engaging days of dancing at a course which will culminate in a festive ball night of salon dances, originating from the enthralling Austro-Hungarian period 1860-1918 and from the dance-possessed America of the early years of the 20th century. All that wrapped up in the tuneful story of the Gypsy Princess (Die Czardasfürstin).

The dances to be taught during the course

- * The Quadrille Allemande, a set of 5 quadrilles from the manuscript records of Amint Freising (1861 and 1892). The dance shows Freising's ability to express convincingly and harmonically the con-temporary dancing style. The quadrille will be danced to the tunes composed by Johann Strauss, the Son, in 1894 and to the original music by H. Mendel, Germany (piano)
- * The Vienna Waltz Cotillion Choreography, will be taught with the original step technique of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th centuries
- * The courtly German Quadrille à la cour, choreographed by Amint Freising (1892)
- * The national waltz of the Hungarians La Hongroise, a great couple dance with Mazurka, Redowa & Galop steps
- * An original Czardas from the Austria-Hungarian monarchy, a popular lively dance.
- * Animal (fun) dances from America of the beginning of the 20th century – Fox Trot, Turkey Trot, Horse Trot, Chicken Scratch, Snake and Grizzly Bear – choreographed in a jolly quadrille format.
- * Christmas Anglais, choreographed by Adam Rabel (1860 Vienna)
